PIET BOON'S SAAR CHAIRS
(ecc.co.nz). SIT BENEATH A
COLOURFUL POP ART WORK.

Treated as blank canvases, the walls of this refined, Parisian apartment are given purposeful pops of colour via a selection of art that lend the space a sense of sophisticated personality.

By merging two apartments together, Studio Piet Boon created a breathtaking, single-family residence where spacious, expansive rooms afforded the designers and the owners ample space to play with colour, texture and art. Working collaboratively with the owners to conceive spaces that could facilitate a family, Studio Piet Boon ensured that practicality was as high a priority as aesthetic appeal, resulting in a modern yet timeless home, perfectly set-up for longevity and the ever-evolving needs of its occupants.

The underlying palette of this apartment comprises quiet, neutral tones where light timber is met with various shades of white. Versatile and clean, it offers the perfect way to frame the clever pops of colour that are woven through the furnishings and decorative objects.

Each room has been designed to showcase a different, colour-coordinated selection of the clients' artworks and accessories. The vibrant accents add intriguing, modern touches to the classically elegant spaces and ultimately work to imbue every room with the individuality and personality of its owners.

By combining simple foundations with abstract and personal inclusions, Studio Piet Boon has created a harmonious, sophisticated residence that is at once an ode to timeless Parisian glamour and a representation of cool, contemporary charm.
